Okay, I really didn't like the last three paragraphs, so I did some major overhauling.

Cami,

I've included most of your edits as comments (a couple are outright deletions), you can modify the comments as you'd like. I also commented on the comparison of the more recent tissue data to the 2005 data. We've never agreed with their analysis, and it's pretty annoying that they keep trotting that out...

Alanna—I can read Barbara's comments in different ways: "The LWG has established a set of key considerations for what we believe are the priorities for the sediment cleanup. We know the CAG will be working on its priorities for what should be included in the remedy and we would like share with you our priorities for things like the cleanup goals, the conceptual site model, the use of cleanup technologies, etc."

Can you clarify whether the LWG will just be sharing these "priorities" with us or if they are planning to do outreach on them beyond the CAG and what more specifically will be included within the scope of their "priorities." Is it limited to discussing a preference for the remedy to be consistent with land use, that it be targeted to the highest risk, that it be cost-effective (these are things I've heard from them) or are they going into different territory?

Once you get more from Barbara, I can reach out to LWG managers—we're meeting on June 17.

Importance: High

All please see below. During the July 8th CAG meeting the LWG plans to present their “key considerations for what we believe are the priorities for the sediment cleanup.”

This is a surprise. Especially since Barbara’s plans for engagement were rather vague last week. (see email at bottom of the page.)

Cami and Kristine – I’ll contact Barbara next week to learn more. However, since she has not been forthcoming with information, Cami it would be advantageous if you brought this up in your next discussions with LWG managers. As we are developing our messages, we need to know what they could be saying. At minimum, I suggest that LWG provides a copy of messages (considerations) /presentation, two days prior to the CAG meeting.

Debbie, I know you are sending a meeting invite – but let’s have first draft of EPA story/messages related to proposed plan by June 7th.

Any other thoughts?

Yes, we can plan on that for the July CAG meeting.

The LWG would like some time on July CAG agenda if possible. As you know EPA will be finalizing the FS later this summer and preparing its Remedy Concept for the National Remedy Review Board later this fall. The LWG has established a set of key considerations for what we believe are the priorities for the sediment cleanup. We know the CAG will be working on its priorities for what should be included in the remedy and we would like share with you our priorities for things like the cleanup goals, the conceptual site model, the use of cleanup technologies, etc.

Please let me know if this works for your scheduling.

Thanks

Alanna

Thanks for your email. I will let you know when the LWG has outreach events as they are scheduled. We will be reaching out to several groups in the coming month – as opportunities arise. Our messages will continue to be that we support a cleanup plan that is protective of human health and the environment and complies with the NCP.

I see EPA is making a presentation to the Sierra Club on May 21 (tomorrow). Please let us know of other outreach events you have planned. It would also be good to know what EPA plans to do about outreach related to its draft remedy concept planned for the NRRB this fall.

Yes, I received the CAG slides from Kristine. I also hope you received the BERA CDs you requested.

Best Regards,

Barbara
